PCFF brings the community together to watch, learn about, and discuss independent and international cinema. We care about the craft of filmmaking, the stories, the people, the connections, and inspiring a new generation of thinkers and doers.

THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL

The annual Providence Children's Film Festival takes place in February at several venues within walking distance of downtown Providence, with eight full days of screenings (short and feature length films encompassing many genres, including live-action, animation and documentary), film-making workshops, and free activities, along with post-film conversations that help deepen the film-watching experience and foster critical thinking skills.

At the February 2015 festival, we will also present our 2nd annual Youth Filmmaker Show, which nurtures and promotes the work of young filmmakers from around the world.

YEAR-ROUND PROGRAMMING

PCFF presents films of the same high quality and film-related educational programming throughout the year. Now in our 6th year, PCFF has become more than just one of the top film festivals in the country dedicated to programming for children and youth.

- Free indoor and outdoor community screenings open to all.
- Programming collaborations with schools and after-school programs
- Youth filmmaking workshops
- Youth Junior Jury

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

To broaden the reach of our programming beyond February, we have expanded collaborations with peer organizations in Rhode Island to provide screenings and other opportunities for youth to learn from and engage with film. Youth-oriented partner organizations include: GiveMe5, AS220, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Providence, Providence Children's Museum, Providence CityArts, Providence Athenaeum Children's Library, Rhode Island Museum of Science and Arts (RIMOSA), Providence Community Library, RIOLIS, and the RISD Museum.

The Providence Children's Film Festival is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization.
